New York Bows Head as Impressive Ceremony is Held for Americans.

crusier Dauntless, which yesterday bore the bodies home, entered. On the side facing the Americans, the Britishers—trim in their blue uniforms with white belts and pith helmets—took their stand.

The Sombre and Gold.

In to the rear of the hall filed sailors from the Brazilian battleship Minas Geraes and the French cruiser Ville d'Yeu.

Then the doors were thrown open to all. As the floor slowly filled it became a scene of contrasts. The glitter of gold lace on staff officers was tempered by the somber dress of the women. In this scene it was the men, not the women, who touched the picture with color.

On the platform were seated men of rank—the secretary of the navy, three admirals, commanders of foreign warships at anchor here, Sir Hugh Frobisher, British air minister, Maj. Gen. Robert Lee Bullard, of the United States army; British and French consul generals and men prominent in varied walks of life.

Scamper Pay Tribute.
But even nearer the caskets were private and ordinary seamen, while inside the auditorium and out were men without collars who stood for hours in the rain until their clothes were soaked, to pay tribute to men who had faced death unflinchingly. The democracy that the gallant sailors had known in life was theirs in death.

The sound of muffled drums outside the hall, the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner" within, and the service had started.

WORKERS ARE CHOSEN BY LOTTERY SYSTEM

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17.—A lottery system is being employed by the city engineering department for the purpose of selecting workers.

By this method between 80 and 100 Columbus married men, numbering among the local army of 15,000 unemployed laborers, are chosen weekly.

These men are limited to one week's work in order that work may be given to as many of the unemployed as possible. They are paid 50 cents an hour for helping build a high-pressure 12-inch fire protection main in the downtown district.

The applicants for work, numbering in the hundreds, each Friday or Saturday place their names on slips of paper. Drawings are made from the slips until all vacancies are filled. Preference is given to registered voters.

proper will be a big source of revenue to the association. This proposition will be expanded to meet a wider variety of demand, according to present plans.

Commemorative letters from C. J. Lenhard, of the Brunswick Shop, and L. S. Shoup, branch manager of the Oakland Motor Car Co., brought smiles to Pres't Hepler of the fair association last night. Mr. Shoup in his letter declared he had attended several county fairs this year, but the Interstate fair of the past week "has anything I have attended surpassed."

Racing Card Good.

The most exacting critic would hardly fail to enthuse in the high quality of the horse racing events of Saturday. Ideal weather conditions, such as a perfect track, added zest to the spirit of the horses and proved the necessary tonic in bringing the trotters to top-most form.

It was difficult to know just where the greatest amount of enthusiasm was aroused in the horse racing events. Bingen Bold, the sturdy little trotter from Niles, put up a splendid fight in the 2:12 trot, only to give way ultimately to the superior endurance of Gold Medal in the fifth heat. Hedgefree Boy, while carrying off first honors by steady and consistent trotting in the free-for-all race, was outwitted by Red Lancelot in furnishing the spectacular. Burst of speed unparalleled on the local track were displayed by the horse from Rockford, Ill., but wild breaks at critical junctures forced him to accept third honor. Pin Money, winner of the five-eighths of a mile running race, gave a thrilling exhibition and kept the big crowd on edge.

Stacy VanValkenberg, driving Pansy Dewey, brought second honors to South Bend in the 2:20 trot, won by Mary D., of Elkhart, Ind. Ed Brinck and Mal Jones kept the audience breathless by their exhibition in the four motorcycle events. The Harley-Davidson whirlwinds showed the thousands of visitors "how to get there quick" and they wasted no time in doing it.

The grandstand and bleachers were filled to capacity, and standing room at intervening points of vantage along the border of the race course was at a premium when the first event on the program was announced at 2:30 o'clock. Everybody seemed thoroughly satisfied with the exhibition and it was a tired but happy crowd that viewed the auto polo contest which concluded the afternoon program.

Crowd Park at Night.

Fireworks of a high order, from a standpoint of aerial loftiness as well as colorful effect made a big audience happy Saturday night, while the Dodge Mfg. Co. of Mishawaka, furnished a musical program that blended happily with the pyrotechnic exhibition.

Afternoon visitors who left at nightfall were replaced by an influx of newcomers during the evening. Were the attendance figures reduced to a finality, it is estimated the totals would favor the evening in point of attendance.

Exhibitors in the exposition building were kept moving at top speed during the day, answering questions and demonstrating to prospects and others, the adaptability and desirability of their varied manufactures and products.

Refreshment booths and quick touch stands were besieged between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening, while the booths of the various local churches proved a mecca for those who wanted something more than a "catch as catch can" subsistence menu.

Free moving pictures of an educational nature attracted hundreds of visitors to the Safety First booth, where even the smallest boy was amenable to screen instruction on "how not to get in the way of an auto."

FLAG RUSH ENDS AS YOUTH DIES

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Sept. 17.—A two-day flag rush between seniors and juniors of the Shelbyville high school ended last night in the death of Bryant King, 19. King was killed when he fell from the top of a trolley pole after putting up his class colors. King had left school, but was fighting with his old classmates, the seniors. His skull was fractured. The fight began Thursday morning, and continued intermittently throughout Thursday and Friday, each class trying to put its pennant where the other could not reach it. School authorities had forbidden the contest.

hotels to pay a tax of 10 percent on the amount in excess of $5 charged to transients for single rooms and on the amount in excess of $8 charged for double rooms.

The committee approved the house provision granting the treasury authority to issue $7,500,000,000 in short term securities instead of $7,000,000,000, but rejected the ways and means committee plan to create a tax investigative committee to study means of taking income from tax exempt state and municipal securities.

A new proposal adopted would require the government to pay interest at the rate of one half of one percent on taxes erroneously paid and refunded to the tax payers.

Fifty Other Changes.
Aside from these changes in the 1918 revenue act, the committee agreed to a half-hundred others many of which were incorporated in the house bill. An official statement issued at Chairman Penrose's office described the more important alterations which were given in detail in Associated Press dispatches Friday night.

The committee statement showed that it had been agreed to accept the house provision repealing the policy taxes on life insurance and the premium taxes of other insurance companies on next Jan. 1, and to impose a 15 per cent tax upon the investment income of life insurance companies from last Jan. 1. The present policy of income taxation in the case of the insurance other than life would be continued. In considering administrative sections of the house bill, the committee made the following decisions: Restored the provision of the present law permitting manufacturers subject to taxes under section 900 and doing both a wholesale and retail business to compute the tax upon a retail sales upon the basis of their whole sale selling prices.

Provides Tax Decisions.
Accepted the provision authorizing the commission of internal revenue, with the approval of the secretary of the treasury and the consent of the taxpayer to make final settlement of tax cases.

Adopted the provision that, if the personal service corporation provisions of the 1918 law are held unconstitutional, such corporations shall pay the tax imposed upon other corporations under the 1918 act, unless they elect to pay taxes under the personal service corporation provision of such act.

Approved the house method of treating personal service corporations as other corporations on and after next Jan. 1.

Provides Income Loss.
Adopted the house provision permitting the deduction of a net loss resulting after Dec. 31, in any taxable year from the net income of the taxpayer for the scheduled taxable year, and if the net loss is in excess of the net income for such succeeding year the amount of the excess in the next succeeding taxable year.

Approved the house provision authorizing the commissioner of internal revenue with the approval of the secretary, to make regulations preserving prior regulations without making subsequent regulations retroactive.

Accepted the house provision authorizing the establishment of a tax simplification board to investigate the procedure of and the forms used by the bureau of internal revenue and to make recommendations for the simplification thereof.

Accepted the house proposal, allowing the deduction in computing net income of an individual of amount expended for meals and lodging by traveling men and other persons while away from home in pursuit of business.

Limited the deduction to individuals for gifts to charitable and educational institutions in computing the net income and struck out a house provision granting a similar deduction to partnerships and corporations.
